Cortina: A Cortina ski vacation is sure to impress. Cortina, unlike other Italian ski resorts, is exclusively in Italy. Cortina truly has something for every level. Cortina Italy is a world-famous winter resort that rivals any other in the Alps best. The village sits in a sunny amphitheater, ringed by spectacular Dolomite peaks which rise over 9,800 feet from the base area. You don't want to miss a sunset here. Cortina has a complete range of winter sports facilities since hosting the First Italian Olympic Games in 1956, and annually hosts World Cup events in mid-January. The resort also hosts bobsled races and on-snow horse shows. At night, enjoy one of Cortina's exclusive night clubs and discos. With so much of the Dolomiti Superski terrain to explore, you can bet that every level skier can find something to suit them. If you opt to stick to the Cortina area, you'll also find plenty to keep every ability and preference occupied. Experts will find plenty of Cortina skiing to suit their preferences, but a run down Staunies, especially a south-facing couloir in the Cristallo ski area, earns bragging rights. Other quintessential expert Cortina skiing runs include Pomedes and Duc d'Aosta. Intermediates will find great snow conditions on the cruisers at the top of Tofana. There's a famed 'hidden valley' red trail from the top of the Pass Falzarego tram that intermediates should not miss. First time and beginner skiers are best served at Cortina with a wide variety of gentle terrain on the main thoroughfares. A great option is to take the Skitour Olympia, which is a route directing you to all the 1956 Olympic courses.

Hotel Menardi: Hotel Menardi is a family run hotel which offers a wide range of modern facilities, rooms with private baths, telephones, televisions and satellite channels and private safes. Not to mention the hotel cuisine, which is looked after with great passion, offers the best of the Italian and local dishes, accompanied by a vast selection of the best Italian and foreign wines. Transportation to the ski areas (either tram or shuttle) is located nearby. Also, it is located 15 minutes walking distance from town.
